Font Personalities

The visual elements that makeup font communicate feeling and emotion to the viewer just as much as the words they are spelling out do. Look at the fonts below and choose two personality traits from the box that best describe them. Think about what makes each font feel the way it does and decide if you want to use that kind of font to create your design.

Creative	Sad	Elegant	Casual
Happy	Boring	Playful	Modern
Rugged	Serious	Lighthearted	Simple
Rude	Businesslike	Practical	Crazy
Loud	Assertive	Youthful	Energetic
Polite	Formal	Masculine	Laid back

Here are some simple fonts that you can use as inspiration for the words in your Calligram. You can also Google search fonts and find others that help express the mood you wish to portray in your design. You don't have to copy the fonts exactly, they are meant to serve as inspiration for your own ideas. Notice how bolder thicker fonts appear darker and can be used to make certain areas of your design appear shaded or to make more important words stand out.

In the wave below, practice writing some of your words in different fonts. Try to use a variety of different font types. Use some bold, some LARGE some small, some THIN, and some WIDE. Play around with filling in some letters with patterns and textures. Have fun giving your words some PERSONALITY! Begin with pencil then use various size black markers to darken the lines and add variation to the width of your lines.

How to make a cool

Doing a cool takes an X in the corner of a square helps to find the center

Once you are confident you like your design with pencil use different size BLACK SHARPIES or marker pens

Mindful Mandala

Instructions

Show the first PowerPoint that explains the meaning of the mandala and how to create a basic, cool centered design. Next, you can hand out the packet with instructions. The sketch will use the worksheets to practice. Students will create a basic mandala design. Making a using pencil. The mandala design are available if you can't find one of these objects!

If you would like to extend on the lesson you can incorporate coloring/compositional skills to achieve balance, and discuss on understanding of the mood of a piece of art. The PowerPoint contains step by step instructions on how to complete the project.
